Product Lifecycle – Information No. 24/91 SI EA PLM PROT
Announcement of product phase-out and cancellation

By this letter we inform you about the schedule regarding phase-out of the products listed below.

During the phase-out period (starting with the date of phase-out announcement) these products are still available until the date of product cancellation as stated below. However, these products should not be used for new substation projects during this phase.

The repair service is typically provided for a period of 10 years after the date of phase-out announcement.

With the date of product cancellation all standard country discounts (factors) are terminated.

Product	Date of phase-out announcement	Date of product cancellation	Successive/substitute product
